

TABLE OF CONTENTS

Crane Flies	2
--------------------------	----------

CRANE FLIES

DADDY LONG LEGS CRANEFLY

DADDY LONG LEGS CRANEFLY

The Daddy Long Legs fly pattern is a lake pattern which imitates insects of the Tipulidae family. These insects are often the food for lake trout and other species at the end of summer to early autumn. The fly is credited to British fly angler Richard Walker. The distinguishing feature of the fly are three pairs of long legs with tied barbs from the center tail of a pheasant feather.

Read More

SKU: 48186

Price: ~~$1.99~~ $0.99

INDEX

D

Daddy Long Legs Cranefly 1